BIG HOME TALENT SHOW AT THE OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Great Audience Will See Red Men's Home Talent Production at the Washington Theater This Evening.

The Red Men's big, home talent entertainment "The Microbes of Love" will be the big attraction at the Washington Theater this evening and from the sale of tickets in advance of the day, it appears that there will be a very large audience present at the presentation.

The practice has been kept up regularly for the past two weeks and the members of the cast are said to have their parts in fine condition for the first appearance.

The show will be a musical comedy in the highest sense of the word. The numbers are lively and their wording very pretty. In the selection of parts and the distribution of songs, the director has displayed his keen ability and has chosen the right character for the right part. The individual acting and singing will stand out prominently but it is in the whole that the play will make its big hit.

Those who have not already purchased their tickets and reserved their seats, should do so immediately and thereby escape the big rush at the box office when the show opens.

WONDERFUL SHOW AT THE PASTIME WEDNESDAY.

The wonderful feature picture "The Face at the Window" at the Pastime theater on Wednesday evening was one of the most wonderful pictures seen in Maysville recently. The picture was a real feature and Manager Triebel is to be congratulated upon bringing such pictures to Maysville.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

New Pulpit and Baptismal Font Installed at Church and Beautiful Arch Erected at Cemetery.

Extensive improvements are under way at St. Patrick's church and cemetery. Experts are now engaged in putting in place a very beautiful pulpit which cost the congregation $600. A new baptismal font is also being installed in the church at a cost of $400. These new additions add greatly to the already beautiful interior of this great church building.

At St. Patrick's cemetery at Washington, the experts are also erecting a very beautiful arch over the entrance. Upon the top of the keystone in the arch is a statue of St. Patrick. This cemetery is now one of the most beautiful in Kentucky and the entrance arch adds much to its beauty.

Other improvements are also being made at the home of the Sisters in Fourth street including the building of a very attractive new cloister.

EXTENSION CLASS OF EASTERN STAR NORMAL.

There will be a meeting of all of those teachers who expressed their desire to take Extension Work, held at the High School building at 9 Saturday, October 22nd.

We have heard from the Dean of the State Normal School in which he informs us that "School Management 3," or Education 21 as it is listed in the Year Book, is Educational Measurements. The text book used is Monroe's "Measuring the Results of Teaching." Standardized tests and scales will be used and studied.

We will ascertain, Saturday morning, the number of books to order and will make the regular official enrollment required by the Normal school. GEORGE H. TURNIPSEED, County Superintendent. W. J. CAPLINGER, City Superintendent.

EASTERN STAR INITIATES ON FRIDAY EVENING.

At the regular meeting of the Maysville Chapter of the Eastern Star to be held Friday evening at the Masonic Temple a class of candidates will be initiated into the order.

WONDERFUL WAS THE ADDRESS OF DR. RILEY LAST NIGHT

Dr. W. B. Riley, Head of Bible Conference Association, Delivers His Great Lecture Before Crowded House Wednesday.

The large auditorium of the First Baptist church was filled Wednesday evening and it was necessary to open the balcony and put chairs in the aisles to accommodate the large audience which came to hear Dr. W. B. Riley, of Minneapolis, Minn., in his address of "The Scientific Accuracy of the Sacred Scriptures."

Taking his text from Psa. 119:160, "Thy word is true from the beginning," Dr. Riley launched into one of the most scholarly addresses heard here from any platform in years and proved conclusively every one of the questioned statements of Moses in the first chapter of Genesis on the creation, using scientific facts to establish his proof throughout.

Many inexplicable instances of science in Scripture were brought out forcibly by Dr. Riley, among them being Moses' statement three thousand years ago "The life is in the blood" which was verified by Harvey in modern times. Another startling instance was cited by Dr. Riley in connection with the discovery of T. N. T. during the recent World War. He said: "It was conceded from the beginning of the late World war, that the alliance discovering the highest explosive would win. Two young Americans—chemists—set themselves to that task. Knowing that snow and hail were contractions formed at 32 degrees above zero, while ice formed at thirty above and became an expansion, they took the explosive chemicals in liquid state and crystallized them by the temperature of hail and snow and lo, the result was a terror and Germany surrendered. Then for the first time men knew what Job meant when he wrote 3,500 years ago, saying, 'Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow, or has thou seen the treasures of hail, which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war?' Job 38:22.

Dr. Riley is a great orator, a great thinker and a wonderful personality. Those who miss his series of addresses miss a most unusual opportunity. Thursday night at 7:30 he will speak on "Our Resurrection Bodies." Dr. Riley will come back to Maysville on next Monday to close the local conference, with an address on Monday night on "The Characteristics of the End of the Age."

SCHWENDEMAN—O'DONNELL.

Referring to the recent marriage of Miss Elthnea O'Donnell, a former resident of this city, a late issue of the Marietta Times has this to say: On Wednesday morning at St. John's church, Churchtown, occurred one of the prettiest weddings of the season when Miss Elthnea O'Donnell and Mr. Joseph Schwendeman of Watertown were united in marriage by Rev. Father Crook.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white pussywillow satin made with an overdress of princess lace and with this she wore a veil of white tulle held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Mary O'Donnell, and she wore an attractive frock of pink georgette with hat to match and carried a lovely cluster of pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Frank Schwendeman. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast of beautiful appointments was served at the immediate relatives and friends at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Klinger of Watertown.

Mrs. Schwendeman is the talented granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Klinger, and attended Marietta High school and Ohio University at Athens. At present she is one of the efficient teachers in Watertown township.

Mr. Schwendeman is the son of Mr. Frank Schwendeman of Watertown and is a young man of admirable characteristics. He attended Lowell high school and Ohio University and at present is engaged in teaching in the public schools in Watertown township. Best wishes of their many friends for future happiness is being extended to this popular couple.

The Missionary Circle of the Christian church met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Jennie Dickson on West Fourth street, with an attendance of twenty-one. Two new members were added. A beautiful hand-made linen cover was presented by members of the Circle to Mrs. Joe E. Cummins, a recent bride.

Miss Nell Sutherland, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is visiting friends in this city.

MASON COUNTY COW HEADS HONOR LIST

Perrant Brothers' Cow Makes the Best Record in the State For the Month of September.

Ten Kentucky cows, including eight Jerseys and two Holsteins, owned by seven different dairymen, won a place for themselves in the September honor roll of the state by producing more than three pounds of butterfat during the two days they were tested under the supervision of the College of Agriculture, according to an announcement made yesterday by J. J. Hooper, head of the college dairy department. Mason county had three cows on the list, Washington two, Christian county two, and Henry, Todd and Boone counties one each.

During September 147 cows in 31 different herds in the state were tested, according to the report. This number included 133 Jerseys, one Guernsey and 13 Holsteins.

Leader's Silver, a Jersey, owned by Perrant Brothers, Dover, led the list with a record of 77.9 pounds of milk and 5.39 pounds of butterfat produced during the two days of the test. Perrant's Pink Peach, Jersey, owned by the same firm, was second with a record of 69.8 pounds of milk and 3.8 pounds of butterfat during the two days of the test. Mermals Little Pioneer, a Jersey, in the herd of Bright and LeMaster, Eminence, was third with a record of 62.4 pounds of milk and 3.75 pounds of butterfat during the test.

WHEN I AM COUNTY JUDGE.

When I am County Judge, you bet, I'll make 'em look sick— I'll deal the cards all to myself And then take every trick.

I'll make a record "proud to claim" My "prestige" will be grand— I'll bet they take my picture With the Maysville Boys' Band!

I'll run the county agent out If he won't toe the line I'll make 'em all be good, by gee, Or salt 'em down in brine.

I'll build the roads to suit myself Or know the reason why And have my boys haul all the rock And let the cows go dry.

I'll let the blooming Country Club Roof leak to beat the cars And rent 'em all umbrellas Or let 'em watch the stars.

I'll edit every paper, and See that they print the stuff That pleases me, you bet your life, And won't let them get rough.

I'll hold my "great sagacity" In business" well in hand And spend the money freely On the paupers of the land.

I'll rule the roost or bust it down I'll pay off every grudge— I'll let 'em know who's boss, you bet, When I am County Judge. —Selected.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The Forest Avenue Parent-Teacher Association will meet Friday afternoon, October 21, at 3:15. All parents and friends are kindly asked to be present.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING.

Every member of the Leslie H. Arthur Post is urged to be present at the meeting of the Post Friday at 7:30 p. m. Business of extreme importance. 20-21 J. D. KEITH Commander.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wood and son, Houston, have returned to this city. Mrs. Wood has been visiting relatives in Atlanta. Mr. Wood and son spent two weeks with relatives in Nashville.

BY COMPARISON

Failing at every turn to substantiate their intimation in the beginning of the present discussion that County Judge H. P. Purnell, wholly and alone, is responsible for the present road conditions, the Independent today endeavors to switch the whole issue when they say that the Public Ledger has been "heating the devil around the bush for several weeks trying to throw the blame for all the bumps and ruts in the road on Mr. Glascock." This is quite incorrect. The Public Ledger entered this discussion after the Daily Independent had published an uncalled for attack on County Judge Purnell blaming him for the road conditions. Throughout the argument they have failed and refused to accept for Mr. Glascock any responsibility whatever for road conditions. We have never made an attempt to "throw the blame for all the bumps and ruts in the road on Mr. Glascock." We have only asked that he share his fair and just portion of the responsibility as one of the three County Commissioners who alone had Mason county road matters in their hands.

It was the Independent who thrust Mr. Glascock's record in the management of the County Infirmary into the argument, and, disregarding his record in every other phase of the Fiscal Court's activities, they have chosen for him to stand alone on this.

For comparison, let's look into the records of the City Alms House maintained by the taxpayers of the City of Maysville, independent of the county.

From March, 1920, to April, 1921, the period in which the Independent, taking direct taxation alone as a basis, says Mr. Glascock kept the 22 inmates of the County Infirmary for $6.50 each per week, the food, housing and management of the City Alms House cost a total of $2,337.50 and during that time the average number of inmates was 12 making a per capita cost to the City of Maysville of $3.81 per week—considerably under the Independent's figures of $6.50 each at the county poor farm.

During the same thirteen months all of the alms given by the City of Maysville, which included many "alms orders" given by members of the City Council to poor families in all parts of the city for food, clothing and fuel, amounted to $2,201.08. The salary of the City Physician, who looks after the poor of the city, was $240. Charging the City Alms House with all of the alms for all purposes given by City of Maysville to inmates and all others who were not inmates, during those thirteen months and also the salary of the City Physician, a total of only $3,441.08 is made, which is only a per capita of $5.51 per week per inmate of the Alms House.

If Mr. Glascock and the Independent elect to stand or fall on this record, they may do so. The citizens of the City of Maysville can congratulate themselves that they have had no man of great "business sagacity" to manage their Alms House.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTICE.

The Woman's Club will hold its next regular meeting Friday afternoon, October 21st, at 2:15. The program will deal with American citizenship, and some very important matters will be presented. Traxel, Frank Vines and H. W. Cole were elected appraisers. The stock will be appraised immediately and sold and the proceeds divided among the several creditors.

FRANKLIN CHOSEN AS NEXT MEETING PLACE OF WOMEN'S SOCIETY

Annual Meeting of the Woman's Synodical Society of Home and Foreign Missions Adjourned at Noon Today.

After selecting Franklin, Ky., as the next place for the annual meeting, the Woman's Synodical Society of Home and Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian churches of Kentucky, adjourned their two-day session at the First Presbyterian church in this city at noon Thursday.

The features of Thursday morning's sessions were reports of the Secretaries of Freedmen and Young Peoples division. These were messages from the Kentucky mountains and were followed by a wonderful address by Mrs. A. I. Aldrich, Field Secretary of the Woman's Board of Home Missions.

All the old officers were re-elected for another year as follows: President—Mrs. E. S. Porter, Louisville.

Vice Presidents—Miss Lila Byers, Hydon; Mrs. L. B. Temple, Bowling Green; Mrs. E. H. Bacon, Louisville; Mrs. S. I. Whitehead, Newport; Mrs. W. S. Dawson, Hopkinsville; Mrs. F. P. Frisbie, Lancaster.

Recording Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. J. Q. A. McDowell, Danville. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. I. H. Goodnight, Franklin.

Secretary of Young People—Miss E. E. Harbison, Danville. Secretary of Literature—Miss Belle Harris, Franklin. Secretary of Freedmen—Mrs. W. B. Thomas, Danville. Auditor—Mrs. A. P. Speed, Louisville.

There were about thirty delegates from out-of-town in attendance during the meeting and the local society did all in their power to make the visitors welcome. That the visitors enjoyed their visit to Maysville was expressed by all. The meeting was one of the most profitable held in recent years.

The Old Folks Say

"A man can often change his mind when he can't change his shirt."—We changed our mind just a little bit this morning when we had an inspiration.

We brother Red Men are giving a Musical Show Thursday evening, October 20, as you all know, a tuneful comedy called "Microbes of Love," and from present indications, everybody and his brother will be there. The inspiration was "Why not have the drawing for the Chevrolet Touring Car take place on the stage during the play?" No sooner said than done, so, Grand Keeper of the Wigwag, Big Chief James Frost, gave us permission to have some one in the audience draw for the lucky coupon. The drawing will take place between the second and third acts.

The Chevrolet will be parked outside the Opera House, and if the holder of the lucky ticket is in the house, he may drive home in his own machine.

In the event that the ticket is not in the house, the lucky number will be advertised in all the local papers, and the car will await its owner, safe and sound in our store room.

Yours, to enjoy the show,

Mike Brown

GENERAL WOOD RESIGNS.

General Leonard Wood, regarded in Europe as the most accomplished American soldier, has resigned from the army in order to accept the grave responsibility which rests at this critical juncture upon the Governor General of the Philippines.

The last administration, by encouraging the natives to believe that independence would shortly be granted, and placing the civil administration too largely in their hands, brought about a disturbing situation which has threatened to develop into revolutionary outbreaks.

In addition to this political unrest and incompetence in administration, financial difficulties of the gravest kind have arisen, and the government at Washington has been called upon to pass legislation to relieve the situation and prevent disaster.

General Wood was sent over to report upon the problem, and while there the President has prevailed upon him to accept the chief administrative post, for at least a year, in the hope that he will be able to bring order out of chaos.

General Wood retires from the army after thirty-six years of distinguished service, entering the army in 1885, and engaging almost immediately, in the capacity of a surgeon, in the campaign against the Apache Indians. Being placed in command of an infantry detachment he won the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest reward that the nation has to bestow.

When the War with Spain began General Wood organized the famous Rough Riders of which Theodore Roosevelt became Colonel. At the close of the war he was appointed Governor of Cuba, a post in which he had an international reputation for himself as an administrative officer and diplomat of the highest order or talent. Later he became Governor General of the Philippines.

Before we entered the European war General Wood, foreseeing that we would eventually be compelled to fight Germany, organized the Plattsburg Training Camp from which officers were graduated who afterward rendered invaluable services in training the raw recruits called to the colors upon the declaration of war.

General Wood was not permitted to go to France with any of the divisions which he trained for service at the front, but without a word he went on his way doing his work with increased devotion and efficiency.

The American people appreciate his character and remember with gratitude the great service which he has rendered during these thirty-six years. They believe that Leonard Wood will round out his long and honorable career with new distinction and fresh triumphs in the difficult post which he now holds.—Lexington Leader.

ALL THE PARTS MUST WORK AS A WHOLE.

There is virtue already demonstrated in the calling together by President Harding of the conference for the amelioration of unemployment. In an incredibly short space of time the elements assembled from widely separated geographical areas and liberally representative of class divisions have evolved most harmoniously a well-conceived program for the working out of the problem. As a result it is immediately discovered by the President and his council of aids that homogeneity is the prime necessity to successful progress in making this program work.

That is, as the President makes plain in his supplemental message of all states, cities and communities, that fullest information of exact conditions must be had from each of the units and a definite plan at once installed by which the organized aid of each separate unit will be available in unison with the central agency at Washington. All parts of the United States will be assembled into a whole with central direction, but all functioning in adequate separate endeavors even as they all function in mutuality of effort.

The unemployment problem is large, but so is the country. Wise discovery in conditions and wise distribution in ways and means to meet widely divergent but carefully assorted needs is a method that appeals. When all work together all profit together as partners.

SNAP THEM ROLLED DOWN.

The bobbed hair fad and the style of rolling down the stockings to a point below the knee have helped the photographers, who make a specialty of developing and printing pictures for the amateur photographer, according to one of them. Every girl, who has had her hair rolled down a record of it and the results a close-up (as they say in the Movies) of her smiling countenance showing the bobbed-ness of the bobbing. Also the new style of being photographed showing an ample expanse of hose—generally rolled down—has helped keep the developer busy.

She has realized many of her ambitions, but has set for herself the goal of selling $100,000 worth of Japanese goods from her department in one day.

HENRY H. HUNT'S PLAN FOR PEACE

Former Mayor and Member of Labor Board Urges Railroads and Unions Make Concessions

Henry H. Hunt, former Mayor of Cincinnati and former member of the Railroad Labor Board representing the public, gives the following article in Cincinnati Post of Tuesday:

The public group on the Railroad Labor Board has made a sound and reasonable suggestion as a basis for striking the threatened railroad strike.

It is that:

1: The railroads immediately reduce freight and passenger rates, as well as to give the public the benefit of the wage cut of approximately 12 per cent. ordered by the Railroad Labor Board in July.

2: That railroads after the reduced rates are in effect, file with the Labor Board a proceeding for further reduction in wages. If they believe reduction in cost of living and other factors determining fair wages would justify such action.

What Unions should do:

If the railroads will do this the unions should suspend their strike order until the decision of the Railroad Labor Board on the railroad's application for further wage reduction is made.

This course is consistent with law, with fairness and with the public interest.

A state of war instead of co-operation exists and has existed for a long time between railroad managers and labor unions. That this state of war exists is due, I believe, to the bourn attitude of a few executives of powerful railroads who have been able to control action of the Executive Board as a whole.

These men are obsessed with the idea that it is their duty, both to their properties and to the country to break down labor organizations. Pursuant to this obsession, these executives have taken such action as to convince the labor leaders that, unless they resist now, there is grave danger that their organizations will be destroyed.

Action of the executives in February in asking the Labor Board arbitrarily to reduce wages without warrant of law; the Pennsylvania Railroad's disregard of the decision of the Labor Board concerning the method of negotiating new railroad rules; action of the Erie, the St. Louis & Southwestern and other railroads in arbitrarily disobeying the law in reducing wages, are among the unlawful and Bolshevik acts which have given labor leaders reason to believe the railroad managers will not proceed in a fair and lawful manner.

The public should make every effort to sustain the transportation act and the powers of the Labor Board. It should bring such pressure on the Pennsylvania R. R. and other railroads which have violated the act as to compel them to obey it. If the railroads will obey the decisions of the board the employees also will obey them, I believe.

Railroad executives should be brought to see it is to their interest as well as the public's to adopt a policy of co-operation instead of war. This is yet possible. Many railroad managers have accomplished it, but they have not been able to control the bourns among them.

The president, the secretary of commerce and the attorney general by obtaining conferences with both the bourn and liberal railroad executives, could bring about a full compliance with the law by the railroads. The labor organizations then would withdraw their strike order and await the processes of the Railroad Labor Board.

Large economies still are possible in railroad management. The greatest economy would be substitution of co-operation for war.

Seven years ago 28,000 crows would buy a suburban house with garden in Austria; now it is the purchase price of an overcoat.

THIFT HABIT IS EASY TO ACQUIRE, SAYS EDITOR

Richard H. Edmonds, of the Manufacturers' Record, Believes in Buying Savings Stamps.

Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, is the author of this editorial sermon on the habit of systematic saving:

"The War Savings Stamp is one way through which every man, woman and child can give expression to his patriotism. The War Savings Stamp appeals to the boy and the girl to save their pennies as well as to the man and woman of small income and to those of larger income. None are too poor, none too rich to cooperate with the Government through the making of a War Savings Stamp habit a national habit.

"It has been well said that 'we get a habit and then the habit gets us.' If we get the habit of buying War Savings Stamps the habit soon gets us and enables us to largely increase our savings to our good and to the welfare of the Nation.

We saw an act and reap a habit. We saw a habit and reap a character. We saw a character and reap a destiny.

"In the home, in the pulpit, in the school, in the shop, on the farm, we should talk War Savings Stamps; we should think in terms of War Savings Stamps, and help to create such a habit of War Savings Stamp buying as to make it a universal custom. In doing this we should be helping the Government and we would be strengthening the moral forces of the Nation by encouraging people to save the money which is now often wasted in trifles which help neither body nor soul. The 'War Savings Stamp habit' when once it becomes universal among young and old, rich and poor, will become a great national blessing, and in sowing an act by buying War Savings Stamps we will shape the destiny of our country and of civilization."

BLASTING TO PLANT.

Dynamite is being used very extensively all over the United States in planting fruit trees, says the American Forestry Magazine. Some of the largest nurseries advocate it and some of the most prominent commercial orchards are using the method exclusively in new plantings.

The cost of living in London, England, is 120 per cent. above the pre-war figure.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless Judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Maysville resident has withstood the sternest of all tests. Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and I have reason to recommend them. At times my back has become lame and ached just over my kidneys. My kidneys were irregular in action and I was dizzy. When ever I have used Doan's Kidney Pills I always get relief from these complaints. I certainly think them a good reliable remedy. I always get Doan's at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

The above statement was given November 16, 1916, and on November 22, 1920, Mrs. Holliday said: "I am glad to say my kidneys have given me no trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills four years ago. My general health has been good. I gladly renew the statement I gave recommending Doan's at that time."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Holliday had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — The East Side is in distress. There's a big wedding scheduled for next week, and the neighborhood's wedding barmen are all booked up in a police station. Even the prospective bride and bride-groom are destitute of finery. The trouble started when Barnett Michaelson's shop was robbed. Being the source of supply for all festive garments, the place where you rent dress suits and bridal veils and silver slippers and hard-bolled shirts—Barnett doesn't believe in the fact for soft, platted ones—this shop was the crux of the whole wedding. It was to furnish costumes for the bride and groom and guests alike. Then it was entered and stripped of practically the entire stock. And when the thieves were caught, matters weren't improved. The police took charge then, and are still holding Barnett's wardrobes as evidence. So there's misery and unhappiness down by the East River, where the people lay blame entirely on poor Barnett, who still hopes to recover his belongings and save the day.

—NY—
Yes, it happens, even to actors. Ernest Truex rushed into the offices of Sam H. Harris and offered the producer a large sum of money for the motor car that plays such an important part in "Six Cylinder Love" at the Harris theater. The star was in a lout of breath, and when Mr. Harris argued that the upkeep of such a car would ruin him, he exploded completely. "Ruin me!" he exclaimed. "Well, you just look at this," and he handed the producer a telegram. It was a wire he had just received from his father, Dr. J. L. Truex of Joplin, Mo., announcing that oil had been struck on Texas property belonging to him and son Ernest.

New York has ordered corsets for its policemen. Not that there's any departmental fad for stylish figures—in fact the belts of the force are just as long as ever. These corsets aren't the fragile affairs in favor with recent debutantes, but are a modern version of the old mail corset in vogue among warriors several centuries ago. Made of silk, canvas and steel, they are warranted bullet-proof. The ten precious garments just bought by the police are being saved for emergency use. They will be worn on dangerous errands by detectives of the bomb squad, and the safe and loft squad.

—NY—
Down in Greenwich Village there are a lot of just plain people who wear starched collars, or is they're feminine, still are slaves to the hair-pin. Rents are cheap down there among the poets, and the inexpensive little basement restaurants serve delicious food. That accounts for the private secretary's street address. She remained just as neat and tailored and precise as if she's never moved south of Fourteenth street. Nevertheless, she enjoyed the mild flirtation of the two young men across the back fence. The great north window of opaque glass proved them to be artists and they conversed with their brushes. They drew a picture of themselves starting out for a day at the beach, and a neat girl in a tailored suit to share their fun. They drew themselves at the shore, disconsolate because there was no tailored girl along. They drew themselves swinging up the avenue with her between them — and miserably sauntering alone when she refused. Finally, overjoyed to see a response from the Private Secretary's window, the two young artists found themselves looking at a bride out from the Sunday supplement. Their response was prompt — two weeping young men pulling bravely at the rope of an enormous wedding-bell.

—NY—
There's nothing in all New York sleepier than the usual owl train. It thunders through the sub-ways, reeking with the peculiarly damp musty odor that seems to fill the tunnels late at night. Every one of the strangely assorted passengers nods in an uncomfortable doze. There was no sleep in the Broadway sub-way the other night, though. A mild and drowsy looking man boarded the train at Chambers street, deposited a large double-flapped basket at his feet, and settled back in the corner to nap. The lids of the basket stirred, lifted and dropped back. A messenger felt for the telegrams stuck in his cap, and sat on the edge of his seat. Then the lids lifted again, and chickens began to scramble out — a dozen of them. They ran and flew and hopped from end to end of the car. The passengers gathered from all parts of the train, and joyfully started a chase. When the train stopped for a few heated pleasure-seekers at Times Square, the poultry race was in full swing. Finally, up in the seventies somewhere, the last fowl was caught and crowded, protesting loudly, into the basket. The mild looking man drowsed on, oblivious of the uproar he had caused, and was still asleep when the train reached Van Courtland Park.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

Many Graves county fields will be well protected from leaching and erosion during the coming winter as a result of the increased acreage of cover crops which has been sown, according to a report of County Agent B. H. Mitchell. More than 800 bushels of rye have been distributed to be used for cover crops and this together with a normal acreage of wheat and a 200 per cent. increase in the acreage of sweet clover which will be sown is expected to result in more protection to fields of the county than has ever been the case.

—O—
Limestone is receiving special attention from Owen county farmers, a report from County Agent David P. Morris states. More than 600 tons of this material have been crushed in the county as a result of a time campaign while six farmers will co-operate in conducting demonstrations to show its value in increasing crop yields.

—O—
Carroll county farmers are gradually eliminating the scrub breeding animals from their farms, seven more of them recently having been enrolled in the better stock movement by County Agent G. C. Routt. They have agreed to use nothing but purchased animals in all their breeding work.

—O—
Marion county farmers co-operating with County Agent H. J. Childress are making plans for a two-day poultry show to be held November 7 and 8. More than $140 in premiums have already been offered by interested banks and commercial concerns in the county. At least 200 birds are expected to be on exhibit.

—O—
Members of the Washington County Poultry Association are making plans for one of the most successful years they have ever had, a report from County Agent R. M. Heath states. They recently purchased 10 Barred Plymouth Rock chickens, including six cockerels and four pullets, for $225.

—O—
Ashland wheat, the pedigreed variety developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station has proved popular with Marion county farmers this fall, nine of them having purchased a total of more than 127 bushels, according to a report of County Agent H. J. Childress. Each of the nine men used avid phosphate in connection with the sowing of the new variety.

HEN HOUSE WORK LESSENED BY MAKING ADVANCE PLANS.

Much of the care which must be given poultry flocks during disagreeable weather can be made easy and the comfort of the flock insured during that season of the year if farmers will complete all building, remodeling and repairing of poultry houses during the next few weeks so that the hens and pullets can be settled in their winter home before they start laying, according to J. R. Smyth, field agent in poultry from the College of Agriculture. This preparation is especially important in the case of pullets since any change in their living conditions after they begin to lay is apt to cause them to stop for a time.

The interior arrangement of the house is perhaps the most important item in the satisfactory and efficient management and housing of the flock during the winter, the specialists say. If the nests, roosts and equipment are placed off the floor all available space there can be used for scratching purposes. This arrangement necessitates a dropping board under the roosts which keeps the straw litter clean. The board should be two and one-half to three feet from the floor and extend at least 10 inches beyond the edge of the first roost. If the roosts are placed on a level no trouble will be experienced in keeping the birds evenly distributed over them during the night. Ten to 12 inches of roosting space is sufficient for birds of the heavier breed while eight inches is sufficient for Leghorns.

Serviceable and inexpensive nests can be made out of orange or lemon crates by placing them on one side and nailing a four-inch strip along the front to hold the straw in the nest. If this type of nest is used a frame work should be built along the wall to hold the boxes in place.

A large self-feeder or hopper is essential when dry mash is fed. If this is placed about one foot off the floor straw and dirt can be kept out of it easily. The water vessel also should be out of the way of dirt and may be placed on a platform built about one foot about the floor. Farmers who wish special help with their poultry housing problems may obtain information from the Experiment Station, Lexington.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y. — "My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always with success. You may use this letter if you wish." — Mrs. Edward Pitts, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try women's souls," but even so, it is more often a symptom of a female trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such a woman should follow Mrs. Pitt's advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and regain health. Letters about your health will be given careful attention and held in strict confidence if you write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Their experience of over 40 years is at your service.

TERROR CAMPAIGN AGAINST U. S. ENVOYS IN EUROPE

Attempt on Ambassador Herrick in France Is Followed by Threats Against Other American Delegates in Europe.

Paris, Oct. 20. — A systematic Communist campaign of terrorism against American diplomats throughout continental Europe is in full swing today. Following the attempt to assassinate Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, reports were received here that hostile demonstrations had been made against the American legation in Brussels. Death threats have been received in letters by the American diplomatic envoys in Paris, Brussels and Rome.

The demonstrations constituted a protest by European Communists against the conviction in Massachusetts of Niccolò Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, Italians, for the murder of Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster of a shoe concern in Braintree.

Extra police guards were thrown about the American embassy in this city today and a bodyguard has been provided for Ambassador Herrick.

STEAMBOAT INSPECTION DISTRICT SEEMS DOOMED.

Washington, Oct. 20. — Efforts of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce and other business and civic organizations along the Ohio River to prevent the abolishment of the Seventh Supervising Steamboat Inspection District have proved unavailing. Calkins, Executive Secretary of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.
